Career & Technical Education

New York State's approval process for Career and Technical Education (CTE) programs has raised the quality and rigor of courses that prepare students for employment and postsecondary study. Approved programs lead to an industry-recognized credential or certificate at the postsecondary level, or an associate or baccalaureate degree. CTE courses offer students the opportunity to apply academic concepts to real-world situations and prepare them for industry-based assessments or certifications. They have the opportunity to earn college credit or advanced standing while still in high school and take part in work-based learning opportunities where they demonstrate mastery of skills essential in the workplace. In addition, our Technically Endorsed programs, embedded in area businesses, have been recognized by District Administration magazine as one of more than 30 national innovative programs.

In 2018, nearly 300 seniors from OCM BOCES' component districts were eligible to earn CTE endorsements on their high school diplomas, including DeRuyter students Dakota Carpenter, Owen Custer, Emma Downs, Allen Glisson, Rebecca Husner, Taylor Kiggins, Tanner Kirk, Elizabeth Losaw, Dante Newton, Kevin Rose, Kaleb Sorrells, Christopher Ufford and Hunter Way.

OCM BOCES & DeRuyter = Student Success

After years of hard work and the fortitude to overcome numerous obstacles, Jamie Marsh has emerged as a leader and role model in the OCM BOCES program at the Cortlandville Campus. Marsh, now a senior, was recently elected by her peers to become student body president. Academically, she is among the top in her class. This year, she is continuing to learn skills that will be invaluable for her long-term success: collaborating with others, advocating for herself and others, conducting thorough research, communicating well, and completing a variety of life skills and tasks.

"Jamie is an amazing young woman," said one of her social studies teachers, Rachell Holl. "I am so proud of her."

English teacher Nichole Lepkowski said Jamie has "come a long way" in her journey at OCM BOCES, which first began six years ago.

"Jamie has improved the most in her ability to communicate effectively and advocate for herself as well as others," Lepkowski said. "She has become a student leader in our school, including winning the election for student body president. Jamie has worked really hard to improve her skills and knowledge and is now one of our top students."

Jamie says she greatly appreciates OCM BOCES, especially the caring nature of the staff.

"BOCES has made me better in all ways because of the people and the experiences I've had," she said. "The staff at BOCES really take the time to get to know and understand the students, and I am better because of them."

Looking ahead, Jamie hopes to someday work as a veterinary technician. That's because she loves "all animals" and wants to help them in any way she can. Lepkowski says Jamie has the right attitude to be successful in any endeavor she pursues.

"Jamie's success can really only be attributed to her," Lepkowski said. "It is because of her willingness and yearning to be and do better that she has truly become an example of success. The value she places on herself, education and compassion towards others is why she will continue to be a success long after BOCES!"

Did You Know?

OCM BOCES District Superintendent & CEO Jody Manning recently assisted the DeRuyter Board of Education in the search for a new superintendent of schools. OCM BOCES created a video to capture the culture and highlights of the district; a vacancy brochure and application; a community survey to pinpoint the most desirable qualities in a superintendent candidate; and a variety of news and website updates to keep the DeRuyter community informed and up-to-date on the search.
