The last of the new Regents exams in commencement mathematics is upon us. Yes, the Algebra 2/Trig Regents exam is scheduled for June 2010, which is closer than we think. OCM BOCES is adding a third roundtable to its calendar and you are invited to gather to begin the conversation and sharing as you plan for the 2009-2010 school year.

Please consider joining us for this inaugural session, based on the well-known roundtable series. This informal gathering is for ANY educator interested in participating in a dialogue designed to discover what's happening and what's being planned. The agenda is very open and the sharing that occurs will prove to be very helpful as we work on providing the very best high school mathematics education.

As a result of this professional development session, participants will:

- learn what others are thinking about doing with A2/Trig,
- identify resources available to help with curriculum, instruction and assessment,
- develop a way to stay in touch throughout the year.

Looking forward to seeing you there!
